

income. While some retirees have pensions or savings, Social Security is the only guaranteed retirement income for seniors.

Social Security benefits have been paid on time and in full every month for almost 70 years. Without Social Security, more than 50 percent of our seniors would be living in poverty. Congress needs to ensure that all Americans can count on some form of retirement income, separate from supplemental accounts such as a 401(k) and the President's private accounts.
